I get this error while trying to install.

This one has the details opened

I have my anti virus disabled

I have rebooted.

I have re-downloaded the appy.

I'm bumping this well because there have been an EXPLOSION of topics and mine has gone completely unnoticed. If anyone can help that would be great.

Do you have Windows 2000 or XP?

May not be related, but from looking around the Installsheld error 0x5 is from not having privileges to create a folder in XP... This would be avoided by installing the software with a user account that has Administrative privileges. (If you already are, then sadly I wasn't able to find anything else.)

I had that happen today, if you clicked "Open" when you downloaded it, go to re-download it and click "Save" instead, that's all I can say because it did the same thing on my sister's computer :rolleyes:

The user account I'm on is set to administrator and is the only account on the computer.

Guess I'm stuck for now :/

Hmmm I can package up a zipfile, that along with a batchfile or simple instructions, will allow you to install renegade without using setup.exe

Yes, do that.

It'll be RenGuard's troubleshooting install package.

Thanks Blazer. I will give that a shot..

BTW took me forever to my my thread. There are so many per hour that it's burying everything.
