I have recived emails from about 35 people complaining they have renguard but the server keeps kicking them.

I'm not sure what is going on, but If renguard is blocking valid people that have renguard installed I rather not have the server running it.

so from this point, the UN servers won't be running renguard untill it gets more stablized.

p.s. I strongly suspect people are cheating even with the renguard client running somehow.

I suspect you are right.

I also suspect that the master servers aren't talking to one another so if the SSC connects to one and a player connects to a different one it kicks the player.

I'm not running pure mod because I like the c4 kity's urban skin for the recon bike.

Anyway, this 1 guy called stfustfu sent me a screenshot of him using BH while the server was running renguard. He was laughing. I swear I wanted to ban him before he sent the screenshot, but to say "he is cheating" while reneguard is active on the server seemed insane.,,,

There are already ways around renguard and people are using them. ALbiet renguard will stop the average n00b, it won't stop the dedicated cheaters.

I removed it from my server ATM. I commend the work of the RG team, but my chat channel gets flooded with "YOU NEED RENGUARD". Some people also get kicked when Renguard is working and active. It also kicked everyone off my server last night for not having it even though they all did and the game was full. I'll look into it in later releases. But at this point it's easier just to play with the cheaters.

We are working to fix any and all issues. We knew there would be a bit of roughness from the start, like I said we decided to release RG now and update it as we go rather than delaying it for more months until it was perfect. We appreciate everyones patience and reporting of bugs or problems they are having. We WANT to hear of any problems so we can take care of them.

As for people trying to bypass RenGuard. We will block any exploit methods that are revealed, and as a last resort we can globally (RG Network) ban someone who is obviously cheating.

Hopefully the fact that any exploit method would involve an elaborate setup and/or only allow a limited time of cheating, combined with the fact that the RG network is highly monitored and we can and will globally ban anyone found attacking or bypassing the system will greatly reduce the incentive for people to even try to hack RenGuard.

So if you really want to cheat, go cheat on some non RG server. I really fail to see the fun in cheating anyhow. Sure its fun for about 2 minutes, but after that...whats the challenge? How can you feel a sense of accomplishment if you KNOW you will win the game? How can you accept a compliment of your "skills" when you know they are fake? This leads me to believe that the #1 goal of most cheaters is just to piss people off and laugh at their misery...to screw up other peoples games and ruin their good time. People like that piss me off, and its people like that RG is meant to stop, and we will do whatever it takes.

still at the bajaserv it was also like that but then the server private messages the player about it and saying they need Renguard and if renguard is active about a day then the players start to understand they gotta download it and at the moment at the Bajaserv there aren't to many players being kicked but it's almost full all times i check so i say let it flood for a wile so ppl understand .

His tripod website is down, he pmed me a link to int on my gsa :/ damn forgot to save...

Blazer I think the problem with renguard is the whole Renguard Network:

- I much rather have a renguard that deals directly between the server and client, I don't want to be connected to a network. My server should do the checking for cheats and report back to the client app. Connecting to a runguard network has some issues (at least for me):

- I don't like the fact that the my server is now dependant on yet another service, errors in that service directly effect player on my servers.

- I don't like the fact that the RG team can send out messages to all the servers at will, regardless of what the RG team says, you are basically getting access to my servers. I saw 2 "hey thanks for using renguard messages" while I don't mind, their is a splinter in the back of my head saying: "look somone else gets to send messages to your servers..."

You also have information on who's playing, when they are playing and as far I suspect even the output logs of servers revealing what goes on in the server. Wheter you use this information or not is irelavent, ITS THAT YOU HAVE ACCESS to this information that I have a problem with.

-This is yet another step for crimson to control renegade, every time renguard starts up she basically has the attention of everyone. I'm sorry but I'm not giving her that much power. Not to mention you and her are going around parading that if servers don't renguard, they will automatically be full of cheaters. Please, we ban the cheaters just like we did earlier, and atm after the first day, renguard has been compromised and cheaters (dedicated ones) are still cheating. Its almost as if renguad is presents itself as a challenge for hackers, its almost inviting people to hack it.

Even if renguard becaomes stable, I don't think I will be running it because of what I have outlined above. Had renguard been structured like this:

- Direct Communication between Server and its Clients ONLY, no renguard network.
- Server owners MAY choose to connect to the network, but it would not be required.

Perhaps then I would consider running it if it had those options above. But as of now, even with the problems fixed, I have no plans on running renguard.

Again, its not a matter of cheaters or not, its a matter of control, RG just wansts too much.

If you don't like putting your server in the hands of a trustworthy team, then don't post and rant about how you don't like it. Just don't use it. I think Renegade will live without the all holy UN servers being a part of their network.

Thats all it is they clicked the renegade button before it finished the connecting. Oh and yes there was a real easy way around renguard but i told em how i did it and they fixed it in matter of minutes. theres still some that people have made that can get by if u know any of em tell the renguard crew so they can fix it.

OK, since RenGuard's launch, I have not sent a single global message. And the message on RenGuard when you launch is this:

Welcome to RenGuard, Blackhand Studios' anti-cheat software for Renegade!

Thanks for downloading RenGuard and supporting the community! We hope you enjoy many more years of cheat-free Renegade play!

Please visit RenGuard.com for any issues or questions.

I fail to see where this is a method of me controlling you. And let's also note that with over 2500 installs NOT ONE person has found anything untrustworthy about it. No trojans, nothing. We have done nothing to lose your trust.

The ability to send global messages on the RenGuard network is not a privilege that we will use often. During this initial launch, we have sent a few reminders for where to get help. We will also use the tool to announce upgrades. You'll be proven wrong as time goes on.

It's not really a matter of trust with Scrumfy. He dislikes me and consequently distrusts me. He is an isolated incident. I have never demanded or expected trust or respect but I appreciate when it's given, and to that end, I really appreciate those of you who do trust me and the RenGuard team (remember that mac leads that team, I'm just the web developer).

And yes, if someone posts how to get around RenGuard, we move it to a private forum for exploration. Anyone who gives a damn about Renegade would tell us if they got around it. We have only confirmed a couple exploits and most of them have been resolved on the server side without having to change the client, but you can expect another client upgrade within the next couple of days.

It is my professional opinion that if you get around Renguard and don't tell us privately about it, that you have a desire to see Renegade die and probably like to cheat. Interestingly enough, Scrumfy created a couple of the cheats the RenGuard was designed to block.

Now you're just as bad as Ty. He put your names on cheats you (probably) didn't create, and now you're affording me the same misrepresentation. I showed Blazer the cheats, back when I liked your network. And you, of course, had to be involved...Again proudly displaying your controlling nature. I thought you had learned to not speak of things which you know nothing about...Apparently not.

EDIT: Let's not forget about the bighead models you DCC'd to me, and let's try to tell the truth. We were all testing cheats, not using them to ruin people's games. Except for you "testing" them in public servers.

The problem with cheats, ANY cheat... is that they start by just being sent between friends, then one day appear on someone's web site. That's why if someone ever creates some way to get around RenGuard, it won't take long for us to get the program, find out how it works, and fix it.

That's wonderful, but you make the assumption that not caring about RG is the same as wanting Renegade to die (which it is close to doing, anyway). RenGuard is the apparently incomplete program which was created by the "software company" which you folks have started. Just because you control many servers, but not ours, doesn't mean that I hate Renegade - It means that I don't like your program. Here, I'll put it simply for you: RenGuard != Renegade

It wasn't to ruin anyone's game, but if you remember, I warned everyone about these cheats before Final Renegade even came out, and I had to see what the impact was. If me, a shitty sniper, could kill the uber leet players on crimson79 server, then it must be pretty bad. Unfortunately, I was able to kill quite easily with it.

Actually, you did it in a separate public server, under a different name. I remember watching you grab kills left and right from inside the Power Plant on Under. And how do you know there's a difference, maybe these "cheaters" were also testing them.

I showed you the wallhacks in a passworded server, and we tested projectiles and the like with it. Then you gave me the bigheads, I gave you the wallhack, to test. Then I saw you join some other, larger, public server with all three cheats on, objects.ddb, wallhack, and bigheads...and we even exchanged pages while I watched you do it. Hope that refreshes your memory, and it's irrelevant that you aren't a "grief" player; you still ruined that game.

Some generalize and base their opinion on an entire group based on the words of an individual, or two, maybe three. Yeilding bad choices.

As for RenGuard (to get back on topic) It is currently installed and running on all OZ owned GSA RenegadeFDS servers with very little incident. Yes a few users are having some trouble with the client, and possibly expressing that in some form here. I will do what I can to help isolate our members' unique technical problem, I don't do personal problems.

First of all, it's the principle. And secondly, wouldn't you ban someone for cheating, even if it was one game? On that logic, RG should let cheaters play one game and then ban them. Although....It does that anyway, since the master servers lag that bad.

OK, I know for a fact I have used one and only one objects.ddb cheat. It was spreegem's speedhack, and we played it on n00bsvr07 a couple days ago. The cheat which doesn't work unless it's on the server, too, which I did. It was actually fun, but useless if it's not on the server which was Spreegem's intent.

Since I had tested wallhack and bigheads, I didn't bother to ever test final renegade and I have never used an objects.ddb cheat except for the speedhack.

And I didn't ruin that game. Ruining occurs when you kill people and use the cheat to your advantage. I very rarely actually fired through the walls, mostly looked.

RG cheater are not banned, they simply are blocked from playing unless they are cheat-free. There will be no global bans except to block people attacking the system itself, or using a new exploit that we cannot quickly block without network disruption.

I don't feel like getting into a political debate with that one, however...You don't like me. Makes sense to call me nasty names. So by doing that, you're showing that you think being gay is a bad thing, and that I'm deserving of the title. So you are in fact a bigot, and it wouldn't be any different for any other derogatory remark about gender/race/religion/sexual orientation, etc.

Aren't you just stupid? I was talking to TwA-Dan in the second one, not the child named after feces. Nice try.

Scrumfy

You make a wealth of sense...In your mind, I'm acting "immature", so therefore you need to respond by acting childish. Brilliant.

Scrumfy, Don't you have to goto school sooner or later? All big 12 year olds have to.

Just STFU, if you don't want to use Renguard - Don't use it!

I'm not the one who took this off topic. I helped it along it's course. Since it's found it's way to where it's at, I'm content in continuing.

Scrunchy, I admit it, I said you were acting like a child, I was wrong. You aren't tho, but you are still being a fucktard.

Pyro227da_shizThey may not have a choice whether or not to feel a certain way, but they do have a choice on whether or not to act upon their feelings.

So what should they do, just be miserable for the rest of their lives because You dont like it?

Id like to take this time and welcome you into reality, there are gay people out there, even straight ones who will try to be "happy" in life, if you like it or not. Like it or not, you need to share a world with these people, so i think it may be wise of you to grow up a little because I said so, and my opinions should be what everyone else believes in..

Most of the people on these forums dislike him already, and even if everyone announced their hate for him he wouldn't care, because you know why? IT'S A FUCKING MESSAGE BOARD, God damn you idiots, slaving over a board. It's a few thousands lines of HTML, PHP, with a MySQL database. OHH NOEZZ11122Q SUM1 OVAR T3H INTERWEB DUN LIEK ME1111 . ffs

Yet you censor it when ACK calls something a nier mobile, but not when insults based on assumed sexual orientation are tossed about. How very hypocritical!

They're both insults. It doesn't matter how different the words are, since they're obviously spelled different and have varying definitions, they still insult others.

I dropped out in 12th grade before I graduated, since I got sick of the retards at my school and wanted to get out quicker to do something better with my life than live in CFL with the rest of the wannabe "APK" gangsters and white trash garbonzo beans.

I have no shame in what I did. Bringing it up will only expose the truth. Big fucking deal.

It's rather obvious to most here. You're wrong. You can't back up anything you say, because every single one of your posts dances around with some other half-assed insult which had nothing to do with the topic to begin with. Then you decide to play the superiority card.

I know it must seem easy to sit behind that computer and type out all sorts of stuff. I tell you what, since we live in the same state, prove you've got some balls and find a place here to meet me. We can either talk it out civil-like or I can smash my boots into your head... Or you can weasel out of it and talk about me dropping out of high school.

Your move.
