ANYONE who disses Crimson is a bitch ass n00b who doesn't know quite what they're talking about. Personally, I think people as highly respected as the RG team wouldn't attempt to do somethin bad to your comp, let alone care to look at what goes on in your server. There are a ton of servers out there, I don't think someone's gonna care to take the time to go lookin through every lil setting & log for your server if they could.

kthnxdie jello :stern:

You don't want other people to know what happens in your server, yet it's easily possible to get a full list of players and their points, kills, deaths, the team they're playing for and their position in the game without RenGuard.
